Are you a church planter with grit and drive looking for a vibrant, growing community? The Rocky Mountain Network invites you to explore the unique opportunities in the picturesque zip codes of 81637 and 81631, encompassing the towns of Gypsum, Eagle, and Dotsero, Colorado. This area is ripe for spiritual growth and ready for a dynamic, faith-driven leader like you to plant a life-changing church.

Why Plant a Church Here?

- Thriving, Growing Community. Gypsum, Eagle, and Dotsero are rapidly expanding towns nestled in the stunning Rocky Mountains. These areas have seen significant population growth over the past decade, attracting young families, professionals, and retirees alike. The blend of diverse age groups and backgrounds creates a fertile ground for a new church to flourish.
- Family-Oriented Environment. This region is known for its family-friendly atmosphere, with excellent schools, parks, and community events. Families in these towns are looking for strong, faith-based communities to connect with and support their spiritual journeys. By planting a church here, you can provide much-needed spiritual guidance and create a supportive community hub for these families.
- Strong Sense of Community. Gypsum, Eagle, and Dotsero boast a close-knit, welcoming community spirit. Residents are known for their friendliness and willingness to support local initiatives. A new church can become a central gathering place, fostering relationships and providing a sense of belonging.

Demographic Characteristics

Diverse and Growing Population

- Gypsum (Zip Code 81637): With a population of over 7,000, Gypsum is experiencing steady growth. The median age is 34, reflecting a young, vibrant community.
- Eagle (Zip Code 81631): Eagle is home to around 6,500 residents, with a median age of 37. This town is a mix of young families, professionals, and active retirees.
- Dotsero: While smaller, Dotsero's population is growing as more people seek the tranquility and beauty of the area.

Economic Stability

The region enjoys a robust economy supported by various sectors, including tourism, outdoor recreation, and local businesses. This economic stability means residents have the resources to invest in their community and support a new church.

Cultural Richness

The area's rich cultural tapestry is enhanced by a blend of long-time residents and newcomers. This diversity presents a unique opportunity to create a church that celebrates different backgrounds while uniting everyone under the banner of Christ's love.

Why This Area Needs a Church

- Spiritual Hunger. Despite the natural beauty and economic prosperity, there's a deep spiritual need in these communities. Many residents are searching for purpose, meaning, and a sense of connection that only a faith community can provide.
- Limited Church Presence. While there are a few churches in the area, the rapid population growth has outpaced the current church capacity. There's a significant opportunity for a new, vibrant church to meet the spiritual needs of the expanding population.
- Community Impact. A new Rocky Mountain Network church can bring fresh energy, outreach programs, and community support initiatives. From youth programs and family counseling to community service and spiritual growth workshops, your church can make a profound impact.
